

AUSTRALIA

On December 20, 1999, the Office of the Union received a notification that the legislation governing breeders' rights of Australia applied to all genera and species, including all fungi and algae from January 20, 2000.