PREAMBLE

1. The purpose of this document is to provide members of the Union with guidance and explanations on how to ensure that the public is informed through the regular publication of information concerning applications for and grants of breeders' rights, and proposed and approved denominations.

2. The structure of the document is as follows:

Preamble

Part I. Introduction to the UPOV Model Plant Breeders' Rights Publication

Part II. Example of Plant Breeders' Rights Publication

PART I. INTRODUCTION TO THE UPOV MODEL PLANT BREEDERS' RIGHTS PUBLICATION

3. Members of the Union are required to inform the public of relevant matters concerning breeders' rights as provided in Article 30(1)(iii) of the 1991 Act of the UPOV Convention and Article 30(1)(c) of the 1978 Act of the UPOV Convention.

1991 Act of the UPOV Convention

Article 30

Implementation of the Convention

(1) [Measures of implementation] Each Contracting Party shall adopt all measures necessary for the implementation of this Convention; in particular, it shall:

(iii) ensure that the public is informed through the regular publication of information concerning

- applications for and grants of breeders' rights, and
- proposed and approved denominations.

1978 Act of the UPOV Convention

Article 30

Implementation of the Convention on the Domestic Level;
Contracts on the Joint Utilisation of Examination Services

(1) Each member State of the Union shall adopt all measures necessary for the application of this Convention; in particular, it shall:

(c) ensure that the public is informed of matters concerning such protection, including as a minimum the periodical publication of the list of titles of protection issued.

4. The information to be published by the members of the Union can be categorized as follows:

- Minimum information
- Additional information

5. Part II of this document provides illustrative examples on the publication of information. The minimum information to be published is presented in dark green and a non-exhaustive list of possible additional information is provided in light green.

PART II. EXAMPLE OF PLANT BREEDERS' RIGHTS PUBLICATION

6. This Part provides an example for the possible presentation of a publication.
7. The structure of this Part is as follows:
 - Introduction
 - Example of table of contents
 - Examples on the information concerning each title in the table of contents

Introduction

8. The information concerning applications for breeders' rights may be presented in alphabetical order of the relevant plant genera and species, listed by botanical name, and the examples in Part II of this document is structured in this way. Members of the Union may also provide hyperlinks to the content of the chosen item.

9. UPOV has established a UPOV Code System to overcome the problem of synonyms for plant taxa. That is achieved by attributing each taxa a code according to the UPOV Code System ("UPOV code"); synonyms for the same plant taxa are attributed the same UPOV code.

10. The guide to the UPOV Code System is available at http://www.upov.int/genie/resources/pdfs/upov_code_system_en.pdf;jsessionid=C6D70B24B0B4CF3EBC4657FD30CAF98F.

11. To facilitate the filing of applications, UPOV has developed the UPOV PRISMA PBR application tool which enables applicants to transmit their application data to participating members of the Union via the UPOV website (available at <http://www.upov.int/upovprisma>). Applications submitted via UPOV PRISMA will be allocated an International Reference Number (IRN), which relevant members of the Union may include in their publications.

12. The information concerning proposed denominations is often published with the information concerning new applications for breeders' rights. It may be the case that at the time of the filing or the publication of the application the breeder is not in a position to propose a denomination. In such cases, the breeder can provide a "breeder's reference" and the application will be published with such a breeder's reference. When the proposed denomination becomes available it will need to be published in a section concerning denominations.

¹ The International Reference Number (IRN) is an identifier assigned by the UPOV PRISMA PBR Application tool. It follows WIPO ST.13 standard for application numbers. When the same variety is submitted for protection in different members of the Union, all corresponding application data will be assigned the same IRN (see <http://www.wipo.int/export/sites/www/standards/en/pdf/03-13-01.pdf>).

² The address should be sufficiently complete to ensure delivery by the postal service. Telephone number(s) and e-mail address(es) are optional.

³ The format of dates should follow WIPO ST.2 standard (see <http://www.wipo.int/export/sites/www/standards/en/pdf/03-02-01.pdf>).

⁴ Codes for States/Organizations should follow WIPO ST.3 standard (see <http://www.wipo.int/export/sites/www/standards/en/pdf/03-03-01.pdf>).

⁵ The address of procedural representatives, agents or proxies is provided since it might be more convenient, in the case of certain announcements, for a user of the publication to correspond with the procedural representative, agent or proxy than the applicant. This will be the case particularly where the address of the applicant is in a foreign State. The address should be sufficiently complete to ensure delivery by the postal service. Telephone number(s) and e-mail address(es) are optional.
