  - (a) within a period of twelve months after the date of filing of the first application, the breeder files an application in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (referred to in this section as the local application); and
  - (b) the local application is accompanied with a claim to have the date the first application was made treated as the priority date for the purposes of the local application.

(2) A breeder shall, within three months of making a claim under subsection (1) (b), submit to the Registrar –

- (a) a copy of the documents that constituted the first application, certified to be a true copy of the documents by the authority in the UPOV member to which the first application was made; and
- (b) any other evidence to demonstrate that the plant variety which is the subject matter of both the first and local applications is the same.

(3) A breeder shall –

- (a) within two years after the expiration of the period referred to in subsection (1) (a); or

19. Withdrawal or lapse of application

(1) An applicant may withdraw an application at any time before a plant breeder's right is made in respect of it.

(2) The withdrawal of an application does not affect the liability of an applicant for any fees that may have become payable up to the date of that withdrawal.

(3) Where any information, document or material required to be given to the Registrar or an approved person under this Act is not supplied within the period stated in the written notice issued by the Registrar or approved person requiring the information, document or material, the application concerned shall lapse on the expiration of that period.

(4) An application to withdraw an application shall be filed in the prescribed form together with any prescribed documents or fee in accordance with the regulations.

20. Provisional protection

Where a plant breeder's right has been granted under section 21, the grantee has the right to take proceedings in respect of unauthorised acts, which require the grantee's authorisation under sections 29, 30 and 31, as if the plant breeder's right had been granted on the date the application for that plant breeder's right was published under section 50.

PART IV

GRANT AND REVOCATION OF PLANT BREEDER'S RIGHT

Grant of plant breeder's right

21. Grant of plant breeder's right

- (iii) is satisfied that the plant variety is new, distinct, stable and uniform within the meaning of section 22.

22. Conditions for grant of plant breeder's right

(1) For the purpose of this Act, a plant variety is new if, at the date of filing of the application, harvested or propagating material of the plant variety has not been sold or otherwise disposed of to another person, by or with the consent of the breeder for the purposes of exploitation of the plant variety –

(a) in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, earlier than one year before the date the application is made;

(b) outside of Saint Vincent and the Grenadines –

(i) in the case of trees or vines, earlier than six years before the date the application is made; and

(ii) in any other case, earlier than four years before the date the application is made.

(2) For the purposes of this Act, a plant variety is distinct if the plant variety is clearly distinguishable from any other plant variety whose existence is a matter of common knowledge at the date the application is made.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, a plant variety is stable if its relevant characteristics remain unchanged after repeated propagation or, in the case of a particular cycle of propagation, at the end of each cycle.

(4) For the purposes of this Act, a plant variety is uniform if, subject to the variation that may be expected from the particular features of its propagation, it is sufficiently uniform in its relevant characteristics.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (1), where, in order to increase the stock of a plant variety or for any testing of a plant variety, the breeder of the plant variety makes an arrangement under which –

(a) propagating material of that plant variety is to be sold to or used by some other person; and

(b) any unused portion of that propagating material, and all the material of any type produced from that propagating material, is –

(i) to be sold to the breeder by that other person; or

(ii) otherwise to become the property of the breeder, no account shall be taken of any sale or disposal under that arrangement.

(6) For the purposes of subsection (1), a plant variety does not cease to be new by virtue only of the sale or disposal at any time of –

(a) material that is not propagating material or harvested material; or

(b) propagating material sold or disposed of as a by-product or a surplus product of the creation of that plant variety if –

- (i) the material is sold or disposed of without variety identification for purposes of consumption; and

(7) For the purposes of subsection (2), the making of an application in a country for –

- (a) a plant breeder's right; or
- (b) the entering of a plant variety in an official register of plant varieties, shall be deemed to render that plant variety a matter of common knowledge from the date of application if the application leads to the grant of a plant breeder's right in that plant variety or to the entering of that plant variety in the official register of plant varieties.

(8) Notwithstanding subsection (1) and subject to subsection (9), a plant variety shall be considered new even where the sale or disposal of the plant variety took place in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines –

- (a) in the case of trees or vines, within six years before the date an application was filed; or
- (b) in any other case, within four years before the date an application was filed.

(9) Subsection (8) only applies to applications filed within one year after the commencement of this Act.

23. Varieties bred by two or more persons independently

Where –

- (a) before a plant breeder's right is granted in a plant variety, two or more applications in respect of that plant variety have been made;
- (b) the Registrar is satisfied that the applicants concerned are persons who bred that plant variety independently; and
- (c) the Registrar is satisfied that, but for this section, each of those applicants would be entitled to a plant breeder's right in that plant variety, the Registrar shall grant a plant breeder's right to the applicant whose application was made first

24. Term of plant breeder's right

(1) A plant breeder's right in a plant variety begins on the day that the plant breeder's right is granted.

(2) Subject to sections 26, 27 and 28, a plant breeder's right in a plant variety shall last –

- (a) in the case of trees and vines, for a period of twenty five years; and

25. Annual fee

A grantee shall during the term of a plant breeder's right –

- (a) pay an annual fee of a prescribed amount; and
- (b) furnish any information the Registrar may require in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed period.

Revocation and invalidity of plant breeder's right

26. Invalidity of plant breeder's right

- (1) A person may, on the grounds referred to in subsection (2), apply to the Court for a declaration of invalidity of a plant breeder's right.
- (2) The Court may declare a plant breeder's right invalid if the Court is satisfied that –
  - (a) at the time of the grant of the plant breeder's right, the plant variety concerned was not new or distinct with the meaning of section 22;
  - (b) where a plant breeder's right was granted mainly on the basis of information and documents furnished by the breeder, the plant variety was not, at the time the plant breeder's right was granted, stable or uniform within the meaning of section 22; or
  - (c) the plant breeder's right has been granted to a person who is not entitled to it, unless it has since been transferred to the person who is entitled.

27. Revocation of plant breeder's right

- (1) For the revocation of a plant breeder's right, a person may apply –
  - (a) to the Registrar, on a ground referred to in subsection (2); or
  - (b) to the Court, on a ground referred to in subsection (3).
- (2) The Registrar may revoke a plant breeder's right at any time during the term of the plant breeder's right if –
  - (a) the grantee, after having been requested by the Registrar to provide any information, document or material as the Registrar thinks fit for verifying the maintenance of the plant variety, fails to do so within the period specified by the Registrar;
  - (b) in any particular year, the annual fee required under section 25 to be paid, has not been paid within the prescribed period; or
  - (c) the grantee, after having been requested by the Registrar to propose another suitable denomination under section 43, fails to do so within the prescribed period.
- (3) The Court shall revoke a plant breeder's right at any time during the term of the plant breeder's right if it is established that the plant variety is no longer stable or uniform with the meaning of section 22.

28. Renunciation of plant breeder's right

A grantee may, in the prescribed form and on payment of the prescribed fee, renounce his plant breeder's rights.

PART V

- (a) produce or reproduce (multiply) the material;
- (b) condition the material for the purpose of propagation;
- (c) offer the material for sale;
- (d) sell the material;
- (e) import the material;
- (f) export the material;
- (g) stock the material for any purpose specified in paragraph (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) or (f).

(2) A grantee may authorise the acts referred to in subsection (1) subject to conditions and limitations.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), a licence issued by a grantee in respect of a protected variety is binding on a successor in title to the grantee's interest to the same extent as it was binding on the grantee; and a reference in this Act to doing anything with, or without, the consent of the grantee shall be construed accordingly.

(4) Subsection (3) does not apply –

- (a) to a person who, in good faith and without notice, actual or constructive of the licence, has given valuable consideration for interest in the plant breeder's right; or
- (b) where the licence provides otherwise.

(5) For the purposes of this section, a person is deemed to have notice of a licence if the prescribed particulars of the grant of the licence are entered in the register.

30. Extension of plant breeder's right to harvested material

Subject to sections 34 and 35, the acts under section 29 in respect of harvested material, including entire plants and parts of plants, obtained through the unauthorised use of propagating material of the protected variety requires the authorisation of the grantee unless the grantee has had a reasonable opportunity to exercise his rights in relation to the propagating material.

31. Extension of plant breeder's right to essentially derived and certain other plant varieties

(1) Where a plant breeder's right is granted to a person, sections 29 and 30 also apply to –

- (a) a plant variety which is essentially derived from the protected variety, where the protected variety is not itself an essentially derived variety;
- (b) a plant variety which is not distinct in accordance with section 22 from the protected variety;
and

(c) a plant variety whose production requires the repeated use of the protected variety.

(2) A plant variety shall be taken to be essentially derived from another variety (referred to as the initial variety) if –

(a) it is predominantly derived from the initial variety or from a plant variety that is itself predominantly derived from the initial variety;

(b) it retains the expression of the essential characteristics that result from the genotype or a combination of genotypes of the initial variety;

(c) it is clearly distinguishable from the initial variety; and

(d) except for the differences which result from the act of derivation, it conforms to the initial variety in the expression of the essential characteristics that result from the genotype or a combination of genotypes of the initial variety.

(3) For the avoidance of doubt, ways in which an essentially derived variety may be obtained include –

(a) the selection of a natural or induced mutant or of a somaclonal variant;

(b) the selection of a variant individual from plants of the initial variety;

(c) backcrossing; or

(d) transformation by genetic engineering.

32. Assignment of plant breeder's right

(1) A plant breeder's right is personal property and is capable of assignment or of transmission in the same way as other personal property.

(3) An assignment or transmission shall be registered in the register on application in the prescribed form by the –

(a) person registered as the grantee of the plant breeder's right; or

(b) person to whom the right has been transferred or transmitted.

PART VI

ENFORCEMENT OF PLANT BREEDER'S RIGHT

33. Infringement of plant breeder's right

Subject to sections 34 and 35, a plant breeder's right is infringed by a person who not being authorised by the grantee by means of a licence or transfer or otherwise, does in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, or authorises the doing in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines of an act covered by –

- (a) section 29 in respect of propagating material;
- (b) section 30 in respect of harvested material; or
- (c) section 31 in respect of essentially derived and certain other varieties.

34. Exceptions to infringement

(1) The following acts do not infringe a plant breeder's right –

- (a) an act done privately and for non-commercial purposes;
- (b) an act done for experimental purposes;
- (c) an act done for the purpose of breeding other plant varieties; and
- (d) except where section 31 applies, an act referred to in sections 29 and 30 in relation to the other plant varieties under paragraph (c).

(2) In relation to the species of plants included in a list of agricultural plants, a farmer does not infringe a plant breeder's right if, within the prescribed reasonable limits and means for safeguarding the legitimate interests of a grantee, he uses for propagating purposes, on his own holding, the product of a harvest which he has obtained by planting, on his own holding, the protected variety or a variety covered by section 31 (1) (a) or (b).

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), the regulations shall prescribe –

- (a) the list of agricultural plants which list shall not include fruits, ornamentals or vegetables;
and
- (b) the reasonable limits and means for safeguarding the legitimate interests of a grantee.

35. Exhaustion of plant breeder's right

(1) Subject to subsection (2), a plant breeder's right does not extend to any act referred to in section 29 in relation to –

- (a) any material of the protected variety; or
- (b) any material of a variety referred to in section 31; or
- (c) any material derived from the material referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b), that has been sold or otherwise marketed in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines by the grantee or with the grantee's consent.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply if the acts involved –

- (a) further propagation of the plant variety; or
- (b) an export of material of the plant variety, which enables the propagation of the variety into a country that does not provide plant breeder's rights in relation to the plant genus or species to which the plant variety belongs except where the exported material is for final consumption purposes.

(3) For the purposes of this section, "material" means –

- (a) propagating material of any kind;
- (b) harvested material, including entire plants and parts of plants; and
- (c) any product made directly from the harvested material.

36. Civil remedies for infringement of plant breeder's right

(1) A person who infringes a plant breeder's right is liable to the grantee and to all persons claiming under the grantee for all damages that are, by reason of the infringement, sustained by the grantee or any of those persons and, unless otherwise provided, the grantee shall be made a party to an action for the recovery of those damages.

(2) In an action for an infringement of a plant breeder's right, the Court may make any interim or final order sought by any of the parties and considered just by the Court, including provisions of relief by way of injunction and recovery of damages and generally respecting proceedings in the action.

(3) Without limiting subsection (1), the Court may make an order –

- (a) for restraint of such use, production or sale of the subject-matter of those rights as may constitute the infringement and for punishment in the event of disobedience of the order for that restraint;
- (b) for compensation of an aggrieved person;
- (c) for and in respect of account; and
- (d) with respect to the custody or disposition of any offending material, products, wares or articles.

(4) Where in an action for an infringement of a plant breeder's right –

- (a) an infringement of the plant breeder's right is established; and
- (b) the Court is satisfied that it is proper to do so having regard to –
  - (i) the flagrancy of the infringement;
  - (ii) any benefit shown to have accrued to the defendant by reason of the infringement;
  - (iii) all other relevant matters,

the Court may, in assessing damages for the infringement, award any additional damages as the Court considers appropriate in the circumstances.

(5) Where, in action for an infringement of a plant breeder's right, it is proved or admitted that an infringement was committed but proved by the defendant that, at the time of the infringement, the defendant was not aware and had no reasonable grounds for supposing that it was an infringement, the plaintiff shall not be entitled under this section to any damages against the defendant in respect of that infringement, but shall be entitled instead to an account of profits in respect of that infringement.

(6) Nothing in subsection (5) shall affect any entitlement of a grantee to any relief in respect of the infringement of that grantee's rights under this Act other than damages.

37. Rights under a licence granted by grantee

Where a grantee authorises a person (by way of a licence) to do any of the acts referred to in section 29 that person has the same rights of the grantee to take proceedings in respect of an infringement of the rights of that grantee in respect of the protected variety which affects a right granted under the licence and committed after the licence was granted.

PART VII

COMPULSORY LICENCE

38. Compulsory licence

(1) A person may apply to the Court for the grant of a compulsory licence to exploit a protected variety in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines.

(2) Subject to terms the Court thinks fit, the Court may make an order for the grant of a compulsory licence if the Court is satisfied that the grant of the compulsory licence is in the public interest.

(3) Without limiting subsection (2), the Court may set out in the order –

- (a) the extent to which the protected variety may be exploited;
- (b) the right of the licensee to obtain propagating material from the grantee to the extent possible; and
- (c) the equitable remuneration which the licensee shall pay to the grantee.

(4) The Court shall not grant a compulsory licence to a person who is unable to demonstrate to the Court that he will be able to exploit the protected variety in a manner acceptable to the Court.

(5) No compulsory licence shall be granted by the Court unless the person applying for the compulsory licence has first taken all reasonable steps to obtain authorisation from the grantee on reasonable commercial terms and has failed to obtain authorisation within a reasonable period of time.

(6) A compulsory licence granted under this section –

- (a) does not prevent the grantee from exploiting the protected variety himself or from granting a licence in this respect;
- (b) may be transferred to another person, but only together with the business activity in connection with which the protected variety is exploited or is intended to be exploited; and
- (c) shall be terminated by the Court where the Court is satisfied that the ground on which the licence was granted has ceased to exist.

PART VIII

NOTICE OF PROTECTION

39. Notice of protection

(1) Where an applicant sells any propagating material of the plant variety in respect of which his application relates, he shall take all reasonable steps, by means of suitable labelling or other identification of that material to inform the purchaser of the existence of his application, unless and until his application is withdrawn or lapses or the Registrar declines to grant a plant breeder's right in respect of that application.

(2) A person who –

- (a) has acquired any rights in respect of a plant variety under section 22, or who is a licensee of the rights; and
- (b) sells any propagating material of that plant variety, shall take all reasonable steps, by means of suitable labelling or other identification of that material, to inform the purchaser of those rights.

(3) In determining, for the purposes of section 36, whether or not a person had reasonable grounds for supposing that an action was an infringement of a plant breeder's right, the Court may take into account the extent, if any, to which a person referred to in subsection (1) or (2) has complied with that subsection in respect of any propagating material in relation to which that infringement occurred.

PART IX

DENOMINATION

40. Approval and registration of denomination

(1) A plant variety in respect of which an application is made shall have a denomination which shall be its generic designation.

(2) Subject to section 41, no rights in the generic designation registered as the denomination of a plant variety shall restrict the free use of the denomination in connection with the plant variety even after the term of the plant breeder's right has expired.

(3) Subject to subsections (4) and (5), the denomination shall be approved by the Registrar and registered at the time the plant breeder's right is granted.

(4) The Registrar shall approve and register a proposed denomination for a plant variety if, in the opinion of the Registrar, it complies with the prescribed requirements.

(5) The Registrar shall not approve or register a denomination for the plant variety which –

- (a) consists solely of figures, except where this is an established practice for designating plant varieties;
- (b) is likely to mislead or cause confusion concerning the characteristics, value or identity of the plant variety, or the identity of the breeder;
- (c) is contrary to any written law or public order, or is likely to be offensive to the public;

- (d) is likely to cause confusion with a trade mark, a name, a business or any other rights for which any person other than the applicant enjoys protection under any law;
- (e) is identical to or can be confused with a generic designation in which a third party enjoys a prior right, either of which would prohibit the use of the designation as a denomination for a plant variety; or
- (f) is likely to cause confusion with a trade mark for any material of another plant variety or for food similar to any material of the first-mentioned plant variety for which the applicant enjoys protection under any law.

(6) Where a denomination for a plant variety has previously been submitted in UPOV member other than Saint Vincent and the Grenadines for the purpose of registration in that UPOV member, the denomination submitted for the purpose of an application in Saint Vincent and the Grenadines in respect of that plant variety must be the same as the denomination submitted in the UPOV member.

(7) The Registrar shall approve the denomination submitted under subsection (6) on the grant of the plant breeder's right, unless the Registrar considers the denomination to be unsuitable for use within Saint Vincent and the Grenadines.

(8) Where the Register refuses to approve a denomination under subsection (4), (5) or (7), the Registrar shall require, and the applicant shall propose, another denomination within the prescribed period.

41. Prior rights

(1) Notwithstanding anything in this Act, prior rights of third parties in a generic designation shall not be affected.

(2) The Registrar shall require an applicant to submit, within the prescribed period, another denomination if, by reason of a prior right, a person who is obliged to use the denomination under section 42 is prevented from using it.

42. Use of denomination

(1) Except where prior rights prevent the use of a registered denomination, a person who offers for sale or markets propagating material of a protected variety shall use the registered denomination for that protected variety, even after the plant breeder's right has expired.

(2) A person shall not offer for sale or market, under the registered denomination of a protected variety, propagating material of some other plant variety of the same plant species or closely related species, even after the plant breeder's right has expired.

(3) A registered denomination for a protected variety or a denomination which is confusingly similar to the registered denomination shall not be used for any plant variety of the same plant species as the protected variety or for a plant species which is closely related thereto or for any material of such a plant variety, so long as –

- (a) the registration of the registered denomination of the protected variety is in force; or
- (b) the registered denomination of the protected variety is still in use in respect of the commercial exploitation of the protected variety, even if the plant breeder's right has expired.

(4) A person who sells or markets the propagating material or harvested material of a protected variety may, for that purpose, associate a trade mark, trade name or other similar indication which he owns with the registered denomination of that protected variety.

(5) Where a person associates a trade mark, trade name or other similar indication with the registered denomination under subsection (4), the denomination must nevertheless be easily recognisable and distinct from the trade mark, trade name or other similar indication.

43. Invalidation of registration of denomination

(1) An application for a declaration of invalidity of a registered denomination may be made to the Court on the ground that it is registered in breach of sections 40, 41 or 42..

(2) The Registrar shall require the grantee to submit another suitable denomination for registration within the prescribed period where –

- (a) the registration of a denomination has been declared invalid by the Court under subsection (1); or
- (b) the use of the registered denomination by the grantee has been prohibited or restricted by an order of Court pursuant to any proceedings taken under a law,
