

RYUDAI OSHIMA

Mr. Ryudai Oshima has been the Deputy Director of the Intellectual Property Division, Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries of Japan (MAFF) since September 2010. He is in charge of both domestic and international affairs related to plant variety protection (PVP); PVP law enforcement, measures against infringement (DNA variety identification, PVP advisors, customs measure, etc.), measures for preventing infringement (awareness raising, etc), international cooperation (East Asia Plant Variety Protection Forum (EAPVP Forum)), etc), international negotiation (EPA, etc.) and UPOV-relations. He is also a member of the task force on genetic resources policies, namely on national legislation under the Nagoya Protocol. Before joining the Intellectual Property Division, he worked in the Secretariat of the International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture (ITPGR), task force within the MAFF on the amendment of the PVP law, and as the manager of the MAFF's global environment programs.